Peppermint Bay is conscious of our impact on the environment and is currently taking part in a green tourism environmental audit initiative.

The Greentea program is a scheme to enable tourism businesses in the Huon Trail region to become more energy, waste, and water efficient. Each tourism business participating in the scheme measures their total energy use, water use and waste produced in the business on a quarterly basis.

This information is then entered onto web based data sheets specifically designed to assess the performance of the business. Each business is rated in terms of reaching a set benchmark and best practice and compared to businesses of a similar nature elsewhere in Australia and overseas.

The program also calculates the amount of carbon produced by the business.

The aim for each tourism business is to continuously improve their environmental performance while maintaining a high standard of service to their customers.
